It was never innocent until proven guilty. It was never that for me. The world was turning against me. Currently, I live in Texas. I am a orthodontist's assistant. My kid's dad, he has been abusive and drinking and driving and all this stuff. So we had a protective order against him and he was not getting the kids. He did all these things, telling BCS about how much abuse that they have been through. Telling them that the kids were beaten and all this stuff. I got pulled straight from my job with my children crying and police all in my home. I was arrested for the first time in my entire life over this. And they would not let me out of jail because he told them I was a flight risk. I sat in jail 14 and a half days, and I've never been in jail my entire life.

My mom found friends. My mom started talking about this angel that she had been talking with, trying to help me and trying to get me out and all of this. He told me this is completely ridiculous. And I'm going to take care of you. Every single thing he told me was going to happen, happened and he gave me my justice my family deserved and I can never repay him. Brent Mayr is perfect for anybody who would like to seek justice. And I truly recommend him to anybody who has been treated unfairly and needs to be proven innocent. I swear to God, I could not have gotten through it without him. He's amazing. He saved my family.
